

ART 24 AMENDWHAT IS CLAIMED IS:

1. A dental tray comprising:

a tray main body 1 which is provided with a knob 101, the tray main body 1 being made of aluminum, the tray main body having a molding part 102 formed along the gum which is opened except to a connection portion 1c, the tray main body 1 being formed with a protrusion 2 and a bridging recess 3 that are formed at a predetermined interval along the both side walls 1a and 1b of the opened portion; and a connection segment 5 which is jointed on the molding part of the tray main body, the connection segment being made of a transparent synthetic resin with a designated width, the connection segment having a bridging groove 503 and a bridging recess 504 formed on the both connection portions 501 and 502, whereby the bridging groove and the bridging recess of the connection segment is detachably joined to the protrusion and the bridging recess of the molding part of the tray main body.